

Annotation

The dissertation of Mahmudov Marufjon Kayumjonovich on the topic "The Formation and development of the regional market of environmentally friendly agri-food products (based on Materials of Sughd Region of the Republic of Tajikistan)", submitted for the degree of Candidate of Economic Sciences in specialty 08.00.05 - Economics and Management of the National Economy (Regional Economics) in Dissertation Council 6D.KOA-023 of Tajikistan State University of Law, Business and Politics

Key words: region, market, ecology, agricultural sector, environmentally friendly products, sustainable development

Relevance of the topic: The importance of the theory of stability of economic system has increased significantly at the current development of human society related with the solution of environmental problems of expanded reproduction of material and spiritual benefits necessary to meet the steadily growing needs of population. This comes to the fore in world development, since the solution of such socio-economic problems like reducing environmental pollution and eliminating threats to food security, reducing poverty and unemployment, ensuring social well-being is becoming an essential condition for sustainable development.

The creation and development of environmentally friendly products market goes together with the introduction of sustainable development concept. The dissertation reviews the contours of creation of a regional market of ecologically clean agri-food products, explores the possibilities and factors of its creation in local area, and assesses the prerequisites of creation of this market.

The purpose of the study is to develop theoretical and methodological provisions of the establishment and development of a regional market of environmentally friendly products within the framework of the program of transition to an industrial-agrarian model of sustainable development of the economy of regions of the Republic of Tajikistan.

The scientific novelty of the dissertation is the development of theoretical provisions of process of establishment of ecologically clean agri-food products market in the context of sustainability of the regional economic system. The dissertation analyzes the possibilities of creating a regional market of ecologically clean agri-food products and substantiates its necessity. The author puts forward the problem of reducing the negative human impact on the environment and all kinds of its protection in Sughd region. Concrete calculations show the availability of production and consumption of environmentally friendly agri-food products.